15. (Unclassified - CM) CONSTITUENT Tom Hodge, of the office of Representative Stanley N. Lundine (D., N.Y.), called on behalf of a constituent to ask for any unclassified information the CIA has given out on its activities [redacted] over the years, particularly related to human rights. I confirmed with [redacted] CPS, that CIA has no particular unclassified, substantive reporting on human rights [redacted] I relayed this to Hodge and added that the CIA never comments on its activities abroad. He understood, and accepted my suggestion that there might be references in the open (library) literature that his constituent could seek. I noted that the Congressman himself could get classified information on subjects of interest, through the Price Subcommittee on Intelligence Oversight of the House Armed Services Committee, through committees being briefed on foreign affairs, or from us directly as appropriate.
